Due Diligence
Technical Evaluation
Market Studies

Knowledge

Innovation by experience

To minimize risk in evaluating business opportunities, all relevant aspects should be considered. The technology of the technological aspects often makes these difficult to assess properly. ÅF provides clear and to the point definition of the present status of an opportunity as well as comprehensive analysis of future potential - all based on ÅF's more than 100 years of pulp and paper industry consulting experience.

Are you ...

- facing shaky decisions due to insufficient or unreliable data?
- dependent on quick but still solid answers to specific technical or market issues?
- in need of a more profound understanding or detailed knowledge of the pulp&paper industry?

Then ÅF can meet your needs.
